Garlic (minced)	5 g	Beef or red-wine jus	30 ml
Butter	10 g	Finishing
Cream	30 ml	Herb oil	5 ml
Thyme (if available)	1 g	Micro herbs	To garnish
Salt and black pepper	To taste

Method

- Mix cold mash with egg yolk and seasoning. Form a cylinder around the caramelised-onion centre. Coat in flour, beaten egg and breadcrumbs, then chill. Fry until golden and crisp.
- For the fried onion garnish, cut onion into 1-2 mm rings or half-rings. Separate and pat dry. Dust lightly with flour and shake off excess. Fry in a small batch at 170°C for about 2-3 minutes, until golden and crisp. Drain well, season with fine salt and keep uncovered in a dry place until plating.
- Cook mushrooms, shallot and garlic in butter. Add cream, thyme and seasoning. Reduce to a ragout.
- Season eye fillet and sear in a hot pan to the desired doneness. Rest.
- Char broccolini in a hot pan with oil and season.
- Mix the roasted garlic-Parmesan butter ingredients, chill and slice a medallion.
- Plate the mushroom ragout and place the steak on top with the butter. Add the croquette and broccolini. Finish with herb oil, micro herbs and jus if using. Add a small nest of fried onion slices to the steak at the pass, keeping them clear of the ragout and jus so they stay crisp.

Key points

Keep the croquette cold before frying for a crisp exterior. Keep the caramelised onion inside the croquette. Keep fried onion slices dry and uncovered; add them only at the pass. Rest the steak properly. Keep mushroom ragout rich but not too wet. Add the butter just before serving.
