5. Bake flan until just set in the center but still a little wobbly when gently jiggled and barely pale golden on top, 50–55 minutes. Carefully remove pie dish from roasting pan and transfer to a wire rack. Let cool 15 minutes. Chill until cold, 2–3 hours.

8. Remove any pieces of cinnamon stick from cake and discard. Wrap cake tightly and chill until cold, at least 3 hours. Transfer leftover coconut mixture in saucepan to an airtight container; cover and chill.
9. Just before serving, stir together 1 cup jam or preserves (such as strawberry, guava, or pineapple) and 2 tsp. fresh lemon juice in a small bowl. Using an offset spatula or spoon, spread jam evenly over entire top of cake.
10. Using an electric mixer on medium-high speed, beat 1 tsp. vanilla extract, remaining 2 cups heavy cream, 2 Tbsp. (25 g) granulated sugar, and ½ tsp. Diamond Crystal or ¼ tsp. Morton kosher salt in a medium bowl until soft peaks form, about 4 minutes. Spread...

How To Dye Easter Eggs | Epicurious

Epicurious · vegetarian · gluten-free

INGREDIENTS

- 5 ml White vinegar
- About 20 drops liquid food coloring
- White-shelled hard-boiled eggs

METHOD

1. Line large baking sheet with paper towels and top with wire cooling rack.

3. Striped Easter Eggs: Wrap a portion of the egg with a rubber band before dyeing. Once the egg is dry, remove the rubber band to reveal the white, undyed strip underneath.
4. Decal Easter Eggs: Another way to block off portions of the egg: Affix stickers or tape in shapes such as daisies or dots before dyeing. Remove once the egg is dry.
5. Free-Hand Easter Eggs: A third way to block off portions: Before dyeing, draw on the egg with a light-colored crayon or wax. If desired, once the egg is dry, the wax can be softened by holding the egg over a candle flame and then wiped off.
6. Two-Toned Easter Eggs: All three of the above methods can be used to create two-toned eggs: Dye the whole egg a light color, such as pink, and let it dry. Then wrap the egg with a rubber band, affix stickers, or draw a design in crayon. Dye the egg a second...
7. Ombre Easter Eggs: Dip a portion of the egg in one color and another portion in another color. If the two sections overlap, that area will turn a combination of the two colors.

Italian Frittata

European · Tasty · 4 servings · vegetarian · gluten-free

INGREDIENTS

- 2 medium Russet potatoes
- 1 large Vidalia onion
- 2 medium Red bell peppers
- 1 large Portobello mushroom
- 70 ml Extra virgin olive oil
- 1 Salted butter
- 30 ml Salt
- 30 ml Pepper
- 30 ml Fresh basil
- 6 large Eggs
- 30 ml Half & half
- 2.5 ml Salt
- 5 ml Pepper
- 2.5 ml Adobo
- 15 ml Fresh basil
- 5 ml Parmesan cheese
- 60 ml Fresh mozzarella cheese — diced

METHOD

1. On a small baking sheet, cut your potatoes into thin vertical segments (half-moon shapes).
2. Drizzle 2 tbsp olive oil over potatoes and season with 1 tbsp salt and 1 tbsp pepper.
3. Next, add 1 tbsp freshly-chopped basil into the mixture and toss together until each potato is coated in oil, seasoning and herbs.
4. Place into a 218°C oven for approximately 35–40 minutes.
5. Chop your red peppers into thin, long segments and slice your onion into thin, half-moon-shaped slices.
6. Remove the stem of your portobello mushroom — cut the mushroom into long, vertical, 1-inch slices— then cut those long slices into horizontal halves.
7. Remove your potatoes out of the oven and allow them to cool for approximately 10–15 minutes.
8. In a large frying pan, heat 2 ½ tbsp olive oil and a pat of salted butter.
9. While your potatoes cool, saute your onions, peppers and mushrooms, until cooked down and tender. Season with salt and pepper. Once your onions, peppers and mushrooms are cooked down, add your roasted potatoes into the pan, with another tsp of olive oil.
10. Saute all vegetables together until the potatoes from a light gold crust on each side. Reduce heat and keep vegetables on low heat.
11. In a large bowl, beat your eggs with a whisk and gradually add in your half-and-half, salt, pepper, adobo and parmesan cheese.
12. Once well-beaten, pour your eggs into the frying pan (that holds the sauteed vegetables) and allow them to cover the entire circumference of the frying pan.
13. Next, place medium diced pieces of mozzarella throughout the frying pan, letting them slightly sink into the egg mixture, followed by adding in sprinkles of chopped basil.
14. Cook on a medium-low flame for 12–15 minutes.
15. Once the bottom of the frittata appears to have solidified, place the pan into the oven and broil the top of the frittata on low for approximately 8–10 minutes, until the entire frittata becomes cohesive — and the top becomes golden brown.
16. Let cool slightly, slice and serve.

- 5 ml . baking powder
- 1 ml Fine sea salt

- 15 ml . plus 1 tsp. unsalted butter
- 120 ml Water
- 540 ml (254 grams) confectioners' sugar

7. To cut the cake and get ready to finish it: Unwrap the cake if necessary and place it right side up on a cutting board. The top will have crowned in baking, so use a long serrated knife and a gentle sawing motion to level the cake. Cut the cake into 16 squa...
8. To make the sauce: Bring the butter and water to a boil—I do this in the microwave. Sift or strain the confectioners' sugar and cocoa together into a bowl—a deep narrow one is best. Pour the boiling water–butter mixture into the bowl and stir with a ■exible...
9. To dip and coat the cake: One by one, drop the cubes of cake into the sauce, turning each one around with two forks until it's coated on all sides. Lift up the cube, letting any excess sauce drip back into the bowl, and return the cube to the rack. After yo...
10. Leave the Lamingtons on the rack to set for an hour or so before serving.

Ludo Lefebvre's Omelet

Bon Appetit · 1 servings · vegetarian · gluten-free

INGREDIENTS

- 2 large Eggs
- 30 ml Unsalted european-style butter (such as plugra) — room temperature, divided
- Fleur de sel or other coarse sea salt
- Freshly ground white pepper
- 30 g Boursin pepper cheese
- 15 ml Finely chopped chives

METHOD

1. Whisk eggs in a medium bowl until very, very well combined (there should be no strands of egg white remaining, but be careful not to incorporate too much air). To make sure eggs are really smooth, strain through a fine-mesh sieve into a small bowl.
2. Heat 1 Tbsp. butter in an 8" nonstick skillet over medium heat. Once the butter just begins to foam (don't let it sizzle), add eggs and season with fleur de sel and pepper. Using a rubber spatula, stir eggs very quickly and constantly in a figure-eight patt...
3. As soon as eggs begin to coagulate, which will take about 2 minutes, shake skillet to settle any uncooked egg. Keep stirring and moving pan in a circular motion until eggs are nearly cooked through on the bottom but still runny on top (or baveuse, as the Fr...
4. Spoon dollops of cheese across the center of the omelet, working perpendicular to the skillet's handle, setting you up to hold the handle with your left hand and flip the omelet onto your plate when the time comes.
5. Starting at the edge closest to the handle, immediately roll up omelet in 1½" intervals, using spatula, until halfway through. Add another 1 Tbsp. butter, then continue rolling up omelet and turn out onto a plate, seam side down.
6. Rub a little butter on top of omelet (to make it shiny) and sprinkle with fleur de sel and chives.

Ludo's Omelet

INGREDIENTS

- 2 large Eggs — insanely fresh
- 30 ml Unsalted europeanstyle butter — room temperature
- Kosher salt
- Freshly ground white pepper
- 30 g Boursin pepper cheese
- Fleur de sel
- 15 ml Finely chopped fresh chives

METHOD

1. This omelet is as smooth as crème brûlée. To achieve this texture, whisk eggs—and fresh eggs are key—in a medium bowl until very, very well combined (we're talking no strands of egg white remaining, but be careful not to incorporate too much air). Want to g...
2. Place 1 tablespoon butter in a cold 8" nonstick skillet and melt over medium heat. The butter doesn't just keep the omelet from sticking, it also adds savoriness, so use the good stuff. Oh, and if it sizzles, it's too hot.
3. Pour eggs into the pan and season with kosher salt and white pepper (not black, so you don't overwhelm the flavor of the eggs). "An omelet is as much about tasting the eggs as the fillings," Lefebvre says.
4. Using a rubber spatula, stir eggs quickly and constantly in a rough figure-eight pattern while moving skillet in a circular motion. Periodically scrape down the sides of the pan so that overcooked bits won't ruin your omelet.
5. As soon as the eggs begin to coagulate, about 2 minutes, shake the skillet to settle any uncooked egg. The eggs should be nearly cooked through underneath but still runny on top. Lift an edge of the omelet to check that it's holding together. If it does, it...
6. Dollop the Boursin across the center of the eggs ("it melts so smoothly," Lefebvre says) at a slight angle from the skillet's handle. This positioning cleverly sets you up to grip the handle with your left hand and flip the omelet onto your plate when the t...
7. Starting at the edge closest to you, use your spatula to gently roll up the omelet at about 1 1/2" intervals. When you're about halfway through, add 1 tablespoon butter to the skillet. It will help prevent any sticking and adds a pretty sheen to the eggs.
8. With your spatula, finish rolling up the omelet, then tip the skillet up and over the plate, using the spatula to help you flip over the omelet so it sits seam side down on the (warmed) plate. To finish, top with fleur de sel and chives.

- 60 ml Unsalted butter
- 180 ml Brown sugar
- 120 ml Chopped pecans

2. Meanwhile, warm milk in a small saucepan over medium heat until it just starts to bubble around the edges; do not boil. Remove from the heat and stir in 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup unsalted butter, and salt until melted. Let cool until lukewarm.
3. Lightly whisk eggs in a large bowl. Add yeast mixture, lukewarm milk mixture, and 1 ½ cups flour; stir until well combined.
4. Mix in remaining 2 ½ cups flour (1/2 cup at a time), mixing well after each addition, until dough comes together.

· 240 ml Long-grain brown rice
· 180 ml Cashew nuts
· 80 ml Blanched almonds
· 1.1 L Almond milk — I use unsweetened

· 60 ml . unsalted butter — melted

· Gold leaf

METHOD

1. In a small bowl, whisk together ½ cup (60 g) all-purpose flour, ¼ tsp. kosher salt, and ¼ tsp. baking powder.
2. In a stand mixer fitted with a whisk, beat the ¼ cup (50 g) granulated sugar, 2 tsp. (14 g) honey, and 1 egg plus 1 yolk (66 g), room temperature, to a bowl of a stand mixer. Using the whisk attachment, whisk for 2–3 minutes until the mixture is pale, thick...

Sheet-pan Potato Hash With Fixins

Bon Appetit · 4 servings · gluten-free

INGREDIENTS

· 1.1 kg Russet potatoes (about 4) — scrubbed, very thinly sliced
· 60 ml Plus 2 tbsp. extra-virgin olive oil
· Kosher salt
· 4 large Eggs
· 225 g . hot-smoked fish (such as salmon — whitefish, or trout)
· 120 ml Crème fraîche or sour cream
· Trout or salmon roe — chopped dill, and thinly sliced red onion (for serving)

METHOD

1. Place a rack in upper third of oven; preheat to 425°. Toss potatoes in a large bowl with ¼ cup oil (using a bowl will help get the slices well coated, which means they'll get super crisp in the oven). Season generously with salt.
2. Transfer potatoes to a rimmed baking sheet and spread out into an even layer (it's fine to have them piled on top of each other; just keep them even). Roast, undisturbed, until browned and very crisp (top and bottom), 40–50 minutes. Let cool 5 minutes.
3. Heat remaining 2 Tbsp. oil in a large nonstick skillet over medium-high. Crack eggs into pan and fry, spooning oil over whites, until set, about 3 minutes.
4. Divide potatoes among plates and top each with an egg, some smoked fish, and crème fraîche. Spoon roe over and scatter some dill and onion on top.

3. Pulse chard in a food processor until minced, about 30 seconds. Return chard to cheesecloth; wring out again to remove any remaining liquid. (If using spinach, squeeze dry with your hands.)
4. Transfer chard to a large bowl. Melt 1/4 cup butter in a small saucepan over medium heat. Add melted butter, ricotta, 4 egg yolks, egg, 1/4 cup flour, and 2 teaspoons salt to chard. Using an electric mixer, beat until a dough forms, 1-2 minutes. Alternative...

6. Lightly flour a rimmed baking sheet. Scoop out scant 2 tablespoons dough; dust with flour and roll between your palms to form an oval-shaped malfatto; place on sheet. Repeat with remaining dough to form 24 malfatti. DO AHEAD Malfatti can be formed 2 weeks a...
7. Working in 2 batches, cook malfatti in a large pot of boiling salted water until cooked through, 6-8 minutes per batch (8-10 minutes if frozen). Drain and transfer to a plate; tent with foil to keep warm.
8. Meanwhile, heat remaining 1/4 cup butter in a large skillet over medium heat. Add sage and cook until butter foams and begins to turn brown and sage becomes crispy, about 30 seconds. Season sage brown butter with salt and pepper. Divide malfatti among plate...

· 30 ml Unsalted butter — melted
· 5 ml Ground cinnamon
· 1 pinch Salt
· 30 ml Light brown sugar

· 120 ml Sifted confectioners' sugar
· 15 ml Milk
· 1 ml Vanilla extract
· 1 pinch Salt

METHOD

1. Combine self-rising flour and yogurt in a medium mixing bowl, stirring, until it begins to form a ball.
2. Place dough ball on a lightly floured silicone mat or pastry board and knead a few times, until the dough is smooth. Add more flour if the dough sticks to the work surface.
3. Lightly flour a rolling pin and roll dough out to a rectangle about 7 inches wide and 12 inches long, adding flour to the rolling pin if it sticks to the dough.
4. Brush rolled dough with 1 tablespoon melted butter.
5. Combine cinnamon and salt in a small bowl. Sprinkle over the buttered dough. Evenly distribute brown sugar over the dough rectangle, and follow with the chopped pecans.
6. Begin rolling the dough at one end, continuing until all the cinnamon and nuts are rolled inside the dough, until you form a log about 4 inches across and 7 inches long.
7. Wrap the dough roll in parchment paper and place in the freezer for about 20 minutes.
8. Meanwhile, preheat the oven to 191°C (190 degrees C). Line a pie pan with parchment paper, or grease the bottom of the pan.
9. Cut the dough into 6 rolls using a bench scraper or sharp knife.
10. Place in the prepared pan, in a ring, with the rolls touching each other. Brush the tops of the rolls with the remaining melted butter.

6. Toss the disks in the extra sugar until coated and transfer to a dinner plate (this will take up less space in the refrigerator). Chill for 15 minutes.
7. Meanwhile, preheat the oven to 177°C (180°C).

Vegetarian Calzones

Bon Appetit · 4 servings · vegetarian · gluten-free

INGREDIENTS

- 1 small Head of broccoli
- 75 ml . extra-virgin olive oil — divided
- Kosher salt
- 450 g . pizza dough
- 480 ml Low-moisture grated mozzarella
- 240 ml Fresh ricotta
- 120 ml Grated parmesan — plus more for serving
- 2.5 ml Red pepper flakes
- 1 large Garlic clove
- 1 Lemon
- 120 ml Basil leaves
- 1 large Egg
- Jarred marinara sauce — for serving

METHOD

1. Preheat oven to 400°. Trim end of stem from 1 head of broccoli, then use a vegetable peeler to remove thick woody exterior of stalk (you can eat the broccoli stalk—it's the best part!). Coarsely chop entire head of broccoli into ½" pieces.
2. Toss broccoli on a rimmed baking sheet with 3 Tbsp. oil; season generously with salt. Roast, tossing once halfway through, until broccoli is browned all over and tender, 20–25 minutes. Let cool.
3. While broccoli is roasting, remove 1 lb. pizza dough from refrigerator and let sit at room temperature (this will make it easier to stretch). Divide into 4 equal pieces and cover loosely with plastic wrap.
4. Combine 2 cups mozzarella, 1 cup ricotta, ½ cup Parmesan, and ½ tsp. red pepper flakes in a medium bowl. Peel 1 garlic clove and grate on a microplane into bowl, then finely grate zest of 1 lemon into bowl (save remaining lemon for another use).
5. Stack ½ cup basil leaves on top of each other and roll into a cigar shape. Slice leaves crosswise as thinly as possible (you can do this in 2 batches if needed). Add basil shreds to bowl.
6. Season cheese mixture with salt, then scrape in roasted broccoli (save the baking sheet, which you're going to use it to bake the calzones). Stir with a flexible spatula to incorporate.
7. Drizzle 1 Tbsp. oil over reserved baking sheet and spread around with fingers to coat surface. Beat 1 egg in a small bowl with a fork until no streaks remain.
8. Working one piece at a time, roll out dough on a clean dry surface to an 8" round. Brush a thin coating of egg wash around perimeter of dough. Spoon one-quarter of the cheese mixture onto one side of dough.
9. Fold empty half of dough down over filling and press firmly all around edge to seal the two sides to form a half-moon shape. Press really firmly to prevent the calzones from opening during baking. Repeat with remaining pieces of dough and filling, transferr...
10. Brush dough all over with remaining egg wash.
11. Do a final crimp around each calzone: fold the outermost ½" of border back up and over itself, pinching like crazy to seal.
12. Bake calzones until dough is golden brown all over and bottom is well browned, 30–35 minutes. Transfer calzones to a wire rack. Poke a tiny hole with the tip of a knife into each calzone to let steam escape.
13. Cut calzones in half and serve with marinara sauce alongside. Top with more grated Parmesan.
