50-clove Garlic Stuffed Focaccia 8 servings

European · Tasty · vegetarian

INGREDIENTS

- 5 head Of garlic
- 60 ml Olive oil — plus 2 tablespoons olive oil, divided, plus more as needed
- 30 ml Salt
- Freshly ground black pepper — to taste
- 240 ml Warm water
- 30 ml Honey
- 425 g Flour
- 225 g Yeast

METHOD

1. Preheat the oven to 204°C (200°C).

3. Drizzle all the garlic heads with ¼ cup of olive oil and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Fold the foil around the garlic. Place in a small baking dish and roast in the oven for 40-60 minutes, or until the cloves are soft and creamy.
4. Meanwhile, combine the water, the remaining 2 tablespoons of olive oil, the honey, 2 teaspoons salt, the flour, and yeast in a large bowl. Mix well, then knead for 10-15 minutes, until the dough is elastic.
5. Transfer the dough into a well-oiled bowl. Cover with a towel or plastic wrap and let rise once for 1 hour in a warm place, or until the dough has doubled.
6. Reduce the oven temperature to 375■F (190■C).
7. Remove the dough from the bowl and transfer half to a 10-inch cast iron pan. Squeeze all the roasted garlic cloves onto the dough and spread in an even layer with an offset spatula. Top with the remaining dough. Cover with a towel or plastic wrap and let rest for 30 minutes.
8. Poke holes in the top of the dough with your fingertips. Drizzle with olive oil and add any other desired toppings.
9. Bake in the oven for 20-30 minutes.

· 120 ml Green olives
· 5 ml Ground paprika
· 5 ml Ground cumin
· Salt and ground black pepper to taste
· 2 large Hard-boiled eggs — coarsely chopped
· 275 g All-purpose flour
· 7 ml Salt
· 120 ml Cold butter
· 80 ml Very cold water
· 1 large Egg
· 15 ml Distilled white vinegar

2. Scrape mixture into a bowl. Cover and refrigerate until fully chilled, 1 to 2 hours; this ensures the dough will not be soggy when the empanadas are baked.
3. Prepare dough: Whisk flour and salt together in a medium bowl until combined. Cut in butter with a pastry blender until the mixture resembles coarse crumbs.
4. Whisk cold water, egg, and vinegar together in a small bowl. Pour into the dry ingredients and blend with a fork. Use your hands to finish blending the ingredients until they come together in a ball. Flatten the ball into a disc, wrap with plastic wrap, and refrigerate for 1 h...
5. When you are ready to cook, preheat the oven to 177°C (175 degrees C).
6. Roll the dough on a lightly floured surface. Use a 3-inch round cutter to cut circles, rerolling the scraps as necessary. I got about 18 circles.
7. Hold each circle in your hand and place a heaping tablespoon of filling in the center. Gently fold the ends over the top and press to seal all the way around. Reserve extra filling for another use.

8. Set empanadas on a baking sheet. Press around the sealed edges with a fork if desired.
9. Bake in the preheated oven until golden brown on the bottoms, about 18 minutes. Flip and bake until the other side is browned, about 5 more minutes.

- 960 ml Colby jack cheese — shredded

METHOD

1. Preheat the oven to 191°C.

3. Place in the oven for 10 minutes or until a digital thermometer inserted in the thickest part of the chicken reaches 74°C.
4. While the chicken is cooking, prepare the other ingredients. Chop the red peppers, rinse the black beans, slice the green onions including most of the green stem, finely dice the garlic, drain the black olives.
5. Layer the chips on a baking sheet. Layer the veggies on top of the chips.
6. When the chicken is done, allow to cool for 10 minutes. Place on a cutting board and chop into 1-inch pieces.
7. Layer the chicken on top of the veggies. Evenly spread the cheese over the top.
8. Heat the oven to broil and leave the top rack in the middle spot. You don't want to get too close to the top and accidentally burn the cheese before the rest of the dish heats up. Place the baking sheet in the oven and allow the cheese to melt and the veggies to get warm, abou...
9. Remove the pan from the oven. I like to use a wide spatula to cut through the chips and cheese to serve.
10. Enjoy!

Croquettes With Plantain, Pumpkin Seed, Mozzarella And Pancetta 16 servings

African · Tasty · vegetarian

INGREDIENTS

- 1 medium Potato — peeled and chopped into eights
- 2 large Ripe plantains — cut into thirds
- 45 ml Plain flour
- 45 ml Pancetta
- 60 ml Grated mozzarella cheese
- 3 Eggs — beaten
- 240 ml Bread crumbs
- 480 ml Vegetable oil
- 120 ml Japanese mayonnaise
- 30 ml Suya spice
- 15 ml Fresh parsley

METHOD

1. Boil the potato in one pot until completely soft/cooked through. Whilst the potato is boiling, boil the plantain pieces (skin on) in another pot until very soft (slightly overcooked). The plantain will become more yellow and begin to push out of the skins.
2. Mash together the potato and plantain thoroughly in a bowl. Mix in the plain flour, then leave the mix to cool.
3. Once cooled, take about a tablespoon of the mix and use your hands to roll it into a ball around 3.5-4 inches wide (adding or removing some of the mix as necessary).
4. Use your finger or the end of a spoon or fork, to create a deep hole in the ball (around three quarters way through the ball) for the filling, making sure not to poke all the way through. Carefully stuff the hole with either pancetta or mozzarella.
5. Take a little more of the mix to create a small 'lid' to cover the hole, then use your hands to carefully roll the ball again to re-shape it as necessary.
6. Repeat to create around 8 pancetta balls, and 8 mozzarella balls.
7. Use a spoon on your hands to cover each ball completely in the beaten egg, and then in the breadcrumb and pumpkin seed mix. Do this twice for each ball to ensure it is sufficiently coated.
8. Set out the croquettes on a plate or tray ready to fry and heat the oil over a medium-high heat in a large frying pan.
9. Test the oil is ready with one croquette first: it should begin to sizzle and fry immediately. If the croquette browns/blackens almost immediately, reduce the heat.
10. Shallow fry the croquettes until they are a deep golden brown, rotating as necessary. Quickly and carefully remove the croquettes once browned with a spatula or tongs to avoid burning and set aside on a plate lined with kitchen towel (to help drain any excess oil).
11. For the suya mayo, mix together the Japanese mayonnaise and suya spice thoroughly.
12. Enjoy the croquettes very warm with the suya mayo as a dip.

Fancy And Beautiful Tomato Salad 6 servings

Bon Appetit · vegetarian, gluten-free

INGREDIENTS

- 700 g Heirloom tomatoes — about 3 medium
- 350 g . mixed cherry tomatoes
- 9 g Kosher salt — divided plus more
- 1 Lemon
- 0.5 garlic clove
- 90 ml . extra-virgin olive oil
- 30 ml . za'atar
- 480 ml Pita chips
- 10 g (or more) honey
- 100 g Greek feta
- 120 ml Basil leaves
- 120 ml Mint leaves

METHOD

1. Using a paring knife, core 1½ lb. heirloom tomatoes, then cut each into 8–12 wedges, depending on their size, using a very sharp chef knife or serrated knife (if your chef knife is dull, it's going to squish your precious tomatoes). Halve or quarter 12 oz. mixed cherry tomatoe...
2. Transfer tomatoes to a large bowl; season with 1¼ tsp. salt. That salt is going to draw out moisture from the tomatoes, which will intensify their flavor. Stir to gently combine (be careful with those delicate tomatoes!); set aside.
3. Zest ¼ lemon—you want about ½ tsp. zest (it's easiest to measure if you hold the Microplane upside down so that the zest collects on top and you can scoop it into the measuring spoon). Grate ½ garlic clove. Set aside.
4. Heat 6 Tbsp. extra-virgin olive oil in a small saucepan or skillet over medium until just starting to shimmer, about 2 minutes. Add 2 Tbsp. za'atar and cook, stirring occasionally, until fragrant and darker in color, 1 to 2 minutes. Stir in reserved lemon zest and garlic. Wait...
5. Place 2 cups pita chips in a medium bowl. (Yes, you could make pita chips yourself—but why turn on the oven in July? We're opting to spiff up store-bought chips instead.) Pour 2 Tbsp. za'atar oil over; season with salt. Mix well with a rubber spatula, aiming to coat chips with...
6. You should have about ¼ cup za'atar oil remaining. Squeeze 2 Tbsp. plus 1 tsp. lemon juice (from about 1/2 lemon) into a small bowl. Add 1½ tsp. honey and ½ tsp. salt. Add za'atar oil, stirring constantly, until emulsified (meaning that you don't see any beads of separated oil...
7. Slice 3½ oz. feta into thin planks (we like Greek feta because it's easy to crumble, with a pleasant tang), then add to bowl with reserved tomatoes. Tear any large ½ cup basil leaves and ½ cup mint leaves (if you have shears, you can cut them to avoid bruising and browning!) a...
8. Add pita chips to bowl (don't leave leftover oil behind—scrape that in too) and fold gently to combine. Spoon salad onto platter, making sure to leave no juices behind. Drizzle with remaining za'atar oil.
9. Eat fast for crunchy chips or let sit for a crispy-gone-soggy experience.

Pak Choi And Kale Dumpling 25 servings

INGREDIENTS

- 25–30 Ready-made round dumpling pastries — or thinly rolled circles of Shui Gao dough (see below)
- 2 medium Or 1 large pak choi
- 5.5 large Kale leaves
- 1 clove Of garlic
- 0.5 a thumb-size piece of ginger
- 1 Spring onion — scallion
- 5 sprig Of fresh coriander — cilantro
- 100 g (3 0.5 oz) minced pork (swapsies: extra firm — fresh tofu)
- 3 g Salt
- 2 g Sugar
- 8 ml Pure sesame oil
- 2.5 ml Chili oil
- 15 ml Oyster sauce
- 8 ml Light soy sauce
- 100 ml (3 0.5 fl oz / 0.333 cup) chicken stock
- 250 g (9oz / about 1 0.75 cups) medium-gluten wheat flour — or plain flour (all-purpose flour)
- 25 g (1oz) tapioca flour
- A pinch of salt
- 170 ml (6fl oz / 0.75 cup) boiling water
- 25 g (1oz) vegetable oil

METHOD

1. Finely chop the pak choi, kale, garlic, ginger, spring onion (scallion) and coriander (cilantro) and place in a large mixing bowl, then add the minced pork and the marinade ingredients and mix well.
2. To make the fat cat fold, place one dumpling pastry flat on a clean surface. Place roughly 1 teaspoon of the marinated mix in the centre of the pastry.
3. Dab a little water all around the edge of the pastry, then fold the top of the pastry over the filling until it meets the bottom edge and press down, closing the edges of the pastry to make a half-moon shape.
4. Now, holding the side edges of the pastry, with the half-moon still pointing downwards, pull the 2 edges (cat ears) upwards to meet in the middle, creating a 'fat cat' shape.
5. Lastly, overlap the 2 top corners of the fat cat shaped pastry together and stick together with another dab of water, pinching together tightly.
6. Do the same with the rest of the pastries and filling.
7. Fill a large pot or wok with water, add a pinch of salt and bring to the boil. Gently add your dumplings and boil for 3–4 minutes, or until they begin to float to the surface, signaling they are cooked. Remove using a spider or slotted spoon and serve with the following dippin...
8. Put the flour, tapioca flour and salt into a large mixing bowl. Using a spatula or a wooden spoon, gradually mix in the boiling water, until all the flour has come away from the sides of the bowl. Lastly, add the oil, then start to knead the dough well by hand for 5 minutes. A...
9. Once you have a smooth dough, form it into a ball, scraping the dough off the sides of the mixing bowl. Rub with a little oil, put it back into the bowl, then cover with a damp tea towel and allow to rest for 10 minutes.
10. Note: If making the dough itself is as adventurous as you want to be for now (or if you're just too hungry to have patience), rolling out the dough into 2 or 3 large pieces, as thin as possible, and taking a 7cm (2¾ inch) square or round biscuit cutter (depending on the recipe...
11. However, if you are now thinking you are closer to becoming a dumpling maverick, the traditional way to roll a round dumpling pastry is to roll each and every piece of dough into an individual sheet. This is usually done with a specific dim sum rolling pin, a thin wooden stick...
12. If you are inclined to become a true dim sum master, here's how to practice the right movement:
13. First, roll a third of the rested dough into a long cylinder, roughly 1.5cm (■ inch) thick, keeping the remainder of the dough covered so it doesn't dry out. Cut the cylinder into 1cm (½ inch) chunks.
14. Roll each piece of dough into a small ball and set aside. Before rolling each individual piece, dust the work surface with a good amount of plain flour (all-purpose flour) or medium-gluten wheat flour. Take a piece of dough and push down on it with your palm to form a small ci...
15. While you are turning the pastry, using your right or dominant hand along with a small rolling pin, with a relevant amount of force roll inwards towards the centre of the forming circle, allowing your pressure to ease up when rolling outwards towards the edges of the circle. T...

Pea And Ricotta Potstickers With Dumpling Wrappers 24 servings

Chinese · Bon Appetit · Vegetarian

INGREDIENTS

- 250 g Plus 6 tbsp. all-purpose flour (optional); plus more for dusting
- 1 small Bunch chives
- 480 ml Fresh or frozen peas — about 10 oz.
- 1 Garlic clove
- 2 g Diamond crystal or 0.25 tsp. morton kosher salt — plus more
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 60 g Fresh ricotta
- 24 Store-bought dumpling wrappers — optional
- 40 ml Grapeseed oil or vegetable oil — divided
- Black (chinkiang) vinegar and/or chili oil or chile crisp — for serving

METHOD

1. To make dumpling dough, bring 1 cup water to a boil in a kettle or small saucepan and let cool 2 minutes. (If you are using store-bought wrappers, skip to step 4.)
2. Meanwhile, set a large heatproof bowl on a kitchen towel. Pour in 2 cups plus 6 Tbsp. (300 g) all-purpose flour and make a well in the center. Using a wooden spoon or chopsticks, stir flour as you gradually add ¾ cup of the just-boiled water in a steady stream, trying to moist...
3. Being careful as the dough will be very hot, carefully knead in the bowl until dough comes together in a single mass. If the dough is very dry and will not come together, add more warm water, a teaspoonful at a time, until more workable. Transfer dough to a very lightly floure...
4. While the dough is sitting (or if using store-bought wrappers), make the filling. Finely chop enough from 1 small bunch chives to measure out 2 Tbsp.
5. Bring a medium pot of salted water to a boil and cook 2 cups fresh or frozen peas (about 10 oz.) until bright green, about 30 seconds. Drain in a colander or mesh sieve and transfer to a food processor or blender. Finely grate in 1 garlic clove on a Microplane. Blend until you...
6. Scrape pea purée into a medium bowl; add chopped chives and ½ tsp. Diamond Crystal or ¼ tsp. Morton kosher salt; season with freshly ground black pepper. Stir in ¼ cup fresh ricotta; taste—the mixture should almost be too salty—and season with more salt if needed.
7. Now, move back to your dough: Cut dough into 4 equal pieces. Working with 1 piece at a time and keeping remaining pieces covered with a damp kitchen towel, roll into a log. Cut log into 6 equal pieces and roll each piece into a ball. Roll out each ball into a 3½"-diameter roun...
8. If you are just starting out, this alternate technique might be easier: Lightly dust your work surface and dowel with flour and roll out dough as thinly as you can, about 1/16" is ideal. Use a well-floured 3½"-diameter biscuit cutter to cut out rounds. Flour rounds well and co...
9. If you are using store-bought dumpling wrappers, have a small bowl of water on hand—dip the very edges of the wrapper into the water and rotate it to wet the edge all the way around. If you are using homemade wrappers, there is no need to wet the edges (unless they have been d...
10. Using a pastry brush, brush off any excess flour from the wrapper. Then, holding wrapper in the palm of your hand, place about 2 tsp. filling in the center. Fold one side of wrapper up and over filling to form a semicircle; pleat edge, working from one corner to the other.
11. Transfer to a baking sheet and situate them so the pleated edge is upright and they have a flat bottom. Cover with a damp kitchen towel and repeat with remaining wrappers and filling.
12. Heat 1 Tbsp. grapeseed oil or vegetable oil in a large nonstick skillet over medium-high. Working in batches (10–12 depending on the size of your skillet) and adding 1–2 Tbsp. grapeseed oil or vegetable oil to skillet between batches as needed, cook dumplings, flat side down, ...
13. Immediately add 3 Tbsp. water (just enough to cover the base of the dumplings). Be very careful as water will sizzle furiously when it hits the pan. Cover pan and cook until water is evaporated, about 2 minutes. Uncover and cook dumplings until bottoms are crispy, about 30 sec...
14. Transfer dumplings to plates as you go. Serve with black (Chinkiang) vinegar and/or chili oil or chile crisp.

1. Spiced green tahini sauce: Pulse garlic, cilantro, parsley, cumin, and 2 teaspoons salt in a food processor until similar in texture to pesto.
2. Add tahini and lemon juice; process for seconds. With motor running, gradually drizzle in 1⁄2 cup (120 ml) water and process, adding more water to thin if needed, until sauce is light green and the consistency of sour cream. Season with salt.

Tori Karaage 5 servings

Asian · Tasty

INGREDIENTS

· 900 g Boneless
· Kosher salt — to taste
· 45 ml Soy sauce
· 45 ml Mirin
· 1 ml Grated fresh ginger
· 2 Scallions — thinly sliced (white and green parts separated)
· 1 Garlic clove — finely grated
· Neutral high smoke-point cooking oil — (such as canola, avocado, or vegetable oil), as needed for frying
· 240 ml All-purpose flour
· 100 g Potato starch

METHOD

1. Cut the chicken into large (1½–2-inch) pieces, first by cutting lengthwise, then into 4 or 6 pieces (depending on how large each chicken thigh is). Place in a bowl, and season with a heavy pinch of kosher salt.
2. To the bowl, add the soy sauce, mirin, grated ginger, sliced scallion whites, and grated garlic. Stir to thoroughly combine. Cover and marinate in the fridge for 30 minutes–1 hour.
3. When ready to cook, add oil to a wide pot or skillet to a depth of 2 inches. Heat the oil over medium heat until a thermometer in the oil registers 163°C (165°C).
4. In a large bowl or on a baking sheet, stir together the flour and potato starch with a heavy pinch of salt. Working with 1 piece at a time, coat the marinated chicken pieces in the flour mixture, shaking off any excess coating.
5. Carefully add a few pieces of chicken at a time to the hot oil, being careful not to overcrowd the pan. (Adding too much chicken at once will lower the oil's temperature, increasing the cook time and resulting in greasy chicken.)
6. Cook each batch for 3–4 minutes, until the chicken turns a pale brown. Remove the chicken, and place it on a wire rack or a paper towel-lined plate. Continue to cook the remaining chicken. Try to maintain a steady oil temperature of 163°C (165°C).
7. Once all the chicken is cooked, raise the oil temperature to 177°C (175°C) over medium heat.
8. Return the chicken in batches to the hot oil, and fry for about 90 seconds per batch, or until it turns golden brown and the internal temperature of each chicken piece reaches 74°C (74°C). Remove the chicken, and place it on a clean wire rack or a paper towel-lined plate. Cont...
9. Let the chicken cool for 5 minutes. Sprinkle with the scallion greens, and serve.
